Finsbury Park: events venue, public open space, community use – how can we balance these different interests? 7:20pm

The main discussion topic for the evening is the management of public events in Finsbury Park. This is an issue of current interest, which has many dimensions including licensing, public safety, frequency and the impact on the park and the public as a result of these events. The Stone Roses concert crystallised many of these concerns recently. This is a chance for everyone to have their say, so come along to contribute your views.
