Corporate Plan Priority [1, 2, 3, 4, 5]	N/a
Name	Priority X
Lead	Andrew Rostom
Owner	Richard Grice
Date	13 February 2018

Summary
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Priority X is quite different to the other five Priorities in the Corporate Plan in that it is somewhat 'inward' facing, focusing on the efficiency of enabling service areas and back office functions. As such, it does not have a set of outcomes or performance wheel indicators aligned to the delivery as is the case with Priorities 1 to 5. Priority X brings together a collection of activities, projects and programmes aimed at improving the efficiency of enabling and back office services, so that they are better able to support and enable Priorities to deliver the outcomes in the Corporate Plan.

Future Front Office/Back Office	The FOBO programme was initiated in response to addressing the challenge in delivering MTFS savings in both the Shared Service Centre and Customer Services. At its core it is reviewing the current front office design and alignment / integration of this with back office services (and vice versa) in order to identify future options. High level design work is currently underway looking at future improvement of cross council processes / functions which currently are organised and managed by these business units, meaning they can sometimes work in silos and miss wider opportunities for end-to-end process improvement. By looking at these services/functions more holistically, there are opportunities to look more widely at the way functions are currently organised and identify opportunities for improvement and consider the introduction and use of new skills and tools as part of this	Design work is scheduled to complete by Mar 18, and when completed will feed into the development of a final report. Following review of the final report, a draft outline business case will be developed by Spring 18. The outline business case will set out options for both the Shared Service Centre and Customer Services & Libraries for delivering agreed MTFS savings of £4.25m by 20/21
Future Ways of Working	A Gateway Review was undertaken to provide some external independent assurance on considerations that the Council should factor into any future stages of the FWoW programme. One such consideration was that the programme should be reconfigured with the 'new office options' project at its core
