Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

What is property licensing?

There are three types of licensing schemes councils can use to regulate private rented properties in their boroughs. Two of the schemes relate to Houses in Multiple Occupation – often referred to as HMOs. An HMO usually has a shared kitchen, bathroom and sometimes a shared living room (known as amenities).

Mandatory Licensing – Since 2004, all councils have had to run a licensing scheme for large HMOs. Any HMO that has three or more storeys with five or more people living as two or more households and sharing amenities has to be licensed.

Additional Licensing – Councils can introduce Additional Licensing to cover any other type of HMO in their area.

Selective Licensing – this type of scheme covers all other privately rented properties.

Why is Haringey considering licensing?

The number of private rented properties in Haringey has increased by over 45% (over 10,000 properties) between 2001 and 2011. The private rented sector now makes up a third of all housing in the borough.

A well-managed private rented sector is important as many more residents are now living in private rented homes. Many landlords provide decent accommodation and abide by the rules. However, we know that some landlords rent out properties that are in poor and often unsafe condition. As a council, we often receive complaints from residents about the condition and poor management of private rented properties in their area. Rubbish dumping, loud noise and general anti-social behaviour (ASB) are among the most common complaints we receive.

Similarly, we receive complaints from tenants living in rented properties. Ongoing problems with cold and damp, outstanding repairs, lack of basic amenities and security measures often feature in the list of complaints. These problems are common place in HMO type properties.

Haringey already has two licensing schemes – a Mandatory Scheme for larger HMOs and a scheme in the Tottenham area for smaller HMOs. We know from running these schemes that there is a need to put compulsory measures in place to secure an improvement in our private rented housing stock.

We want to improve the standard and safety of private rented housing and address anti-social behaviour, as this will benefit private tenants, landlords and greatly improve the generally appearance of the borough.

Introducing licensing will:

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

- Help us to work with landlords, offering them guidance and support to ensure that homes are safe and well managed.
- Promote a professional approach to management amongst private landlords.
- Allow us to more easily take action against landlords who provide poor standard of accommodation and whose tenants cause a persistent level of anti-social behaviour.
- Improve the local environment such as less dumping of household rubbish.
- Added protection for tenants and the council no longer relying on the tenant or neighbours to report poor property conditions.
- Allow us to employ more staff to check that the properties meet the licensing conditions, without increasing the cost to the tax-payer. Licensing schemes are self-funding.

Existing powers available and alternative action.

Existing powers available to the council are largely reactive with officers responding to tenants' complaints. Many tenants are reluctant to complain through fear of retaliation. Although current enforcement activity has been successful in resolving problems in individual properties, it is not felt to have raised the standard of the private rented sector generally. Responding to complaints often involves more than one council department, using various pieces of legislation. This is time consuming and often means that problems are not resolved quickly.

Through our existing licensing schemes, we know where private rented properties are and more importantly who the landlord or managing agent is. This means that we can be proactive in checking that properties are up to standard and that important safety measures, such as up to date gas safety certificates, are in place.

We did consider whether it could take any other course of action. This included:

- Do nothing and continue with existing legal powers - Existing powers available to the council are largely reactive with officers responding to tenants' complaints.
- Voluntary Accreditation - A voluntary accreditation schemes relies on the willingness of landlords to sign up to it. This will not address the problem of rogue landlords or inexperienced landlords as they are unlikely to sign up.

Having considered all the other options available, we believe that the two proposed licencing schemes are the best tools available to tackle problems of poor housing conditions and property related anti-social behaviour (ASB).

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

How licensing fits with the Council's wider plans.

Our Housing Strategy supports the growth of the private rented sector in Haringey and the improvement of our existing housing stock to benefit all households.

Schemes such as licensing can improve the quality of the sector by eliminating poor management practices and property conditions and reducing ASB that can adversely affect a neighbourhood.

We have ambitious plans to regenerate the borough, provide more housing and improve the condition of existing housing. We believe that good quality housing is a basic right of every resident.

Our plans for regenerating Tottenham and Wood Green will greatly transform the borough; landlords will benefit as these areas will continue to grow and thrive. Licensing will make a big difference and contribute to achieving the council's aims.

We know that homelessness is an issue in Haringey – we have thousands of households living in temporary accommodation because they are homeless. The main reason for homelessness is loss of a private rented tenancy. Licensing will tackle poor management that leads to households losing their homes and becoming homeless. It will also help to build a relationship between the council and landlords and identify those who may be willing to work alongside our homelessness team to provide temporary accommodation.

Problems with anti-social behaviour (ASB), crime and fly tipping.

We have spent many months analysing: complaints; information we hold on private rented properties and information held by other partners such as the police. The information has been used to look at how problems in Haringey compare with other boroughs, whether there is a link between private rented properties and incidents of crime and ASB and to identify those parts of the borough that experience more problems than average. The information has told us that:

- Crime and ASB rates in Haringey are above the national and local average.
- Fly tipping (rubbish dumping) is costing the Council approximately £3 million per year.
- 18 out of 19 wards in the borough have above average rates of private rented stock.
- Approximately, 35,500 properties in Haringey are now privately rented and approximately 50% of the 35,500 properties are HMOs.

Please read our analysis of high level ASB, crime, etc. \(PDF, 2.4MB\) for more details.

When we considered whether there was a link between complaints, crime, ASB and private rented homes, the information told us that of the:

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

- 19,942 noise complaints received – 80% related to private rented properties.
- 13,585 incidents of environmental crime recorded (rubbish dumping etc.) – 49% related to private rented homes.
- 1,041 complaints of serious breaches of health and safety property conditions (Category 1&2 complaints) received, 69% related to homes that were privately rented.

Having considered all the data, the council came to the conclusion that all HMOs in the borough needed to be licenced. However, in considering whether there was a case for introducing Selective licensing for all other types of private rented properties, we felt that, based on the evidence, a scheme was needed for some of the properties but not all.

In deciding which properties should be considered for a Selective licensing scheme, the council agreed the priority areas based on the criteria below:

- Areas with equal to, or higher than, the London average for private rented properties – this is currently 26%, significantly higher than the national average of 19%.
- Areas scoring the highest for poor housing conditions, ASB and crime.

In order to target those areas in greatest need, we applied the above criteria to Lower Super Output Areas (LSOAs). LSOAs are recognised geographical areas and are most noticeably used for conducting the Census.

The use of the LSOA framework does mean that in some instances the areas chosen either split streets in two or have other irregular boundaries. We did consider reworking the boundaries, but to do this would mean applying a level of subjectivity to a process that has been wholly evidence based. It would also make it more difficult to measure the success of the scheme over time.

The above process highlighted 29 areas that all have a higher than London average number of private rented properties and a significant and persistent problem with private rented property related ASB. We are therefore suggesting that the 29 LSOAs should make up a selective licensing scheme.

Please refer to the maps detailing the roads/areas included within the proposed 29 Selective Licensing Areas \(PDF, 5.4MB\) for more details.

What is Haringey hoping to achieve by introducing a borough wide licensing scheme for HMOs and a smaller scheme for all other private rented properties?

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

Our main driver for extending our additional licensing scheme borough wide and introducing a smaller selective licensing scheme is to improve housing conditions. We also want to improve the quality of life for residents by tackling ASB and environmental crime associated with poorly managed private rented properties. Our aim is that over the five-year period of the licensing schemes, the following outcomes will be achieved:

- Improved housing conditions
- A reduction in significant persistent problems caused by anti-social behaviour, including environmental crimes such as fly tipping.
- Reduced levels of property related crime such as burglary.
- An increase in good landlords and an elimination of rogue landlords

We believe that licensing will make a significant contribution to improving the borough and provide an added layer of protection for private tenants.

The Council's proposal

The Council is proposing two schemes:

Additional Licensing – A borough wide scheme that will require all HMOs in Haringey to be licensed. This will include the category of HMO which is often referred to as a section 257 HMO. Section 257 HMOs are where the building was converted into self-contained flats before the 1991 Building Regulations came into force on 1st June 1992 and have not been subsequently improved to at least the 1991 standards.

Selective Licensing – a scheme that will require all other privately rented properties located in the 29 LSO areas to be licensed,

Licensing Conditions – The conditions are a set of standards that landlords have to follow for both the condition of the property and the way the property is managed. Most of the conditions contain standards that landlords should already be following such as issuing a tenancy agreement at the start of the tenancy and ensuring that annual gas safety checks are carried out.

Licensing fees.

In setting the licence fee we have estimated how much it will cost to run the scheme. The council cannot make a profit from the scheme, but it must charge enough to make sure that all costs are covered.

A licence would normally be granted for a five-year period and no further fees would be payable during that time. A licence cannot be transferred to another person; therefore, a change of licence holder would require a new application for which the full fee would be charged.

The council will offer a 50% discount for those applications made during the first three months of the scheme, before the designation comes into force. For example, the full cost of a selective licence for a five-year period is £500. This will reduce to £250.

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

The fees are detailed overleaf:

Fee Schedule

Type of licence	Cost	Annual Equivalent	Weekly Equivalent
Selective Licensing fee for a five-year licence - applicants applying during the first three months of the scheme being introduced. (50% discount)	£250	£50.00	96p
Selective Licensing fee for a five-year licence – applicants applying after the three-month period.	£500	£100	£1.92.
Additional Licensing fee - for a five-year licence - applicants applying during the first three months of the scheme being introduced. (50% discount)	£104	£20.80	£40p
Additional Licensing fee for a five year licence – applicants applying after the three month period.	£208 per unit of accommodation	£41.60	80p

Other fees may apply, again these have been calculated to ensure that the scheme is cost neutral. Additional costs could include: a fee if the landlord wants to make a paper application or if the landlord needs assistance with completing an application form.

Other fees

	Cost

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

Paper applications	£100
Assistance with completing the application form	£60
Assistance with completing the application form, including the drawing of floor plans (HMOs only)	£390
Change of licence holder – new application fee	£500 Selective licensing / £208
	per unit of accommodation for HMOs
Temporary Exemption Notice.	£30.00

Refund Policy – if the Council refuse a licence application, the landlord will not receive a refund.

Duration of the licence – Licences will usually last five years. However, a licence may be issued for a shorter period where poor management and property conditions are identified. Where this applies the full fee will be payable.

Factors that will be taken into account when issuing a licence for a shorter period include:

- landlords who have failed to licence voluntarily
- failing to have planning permission
- Council tax arrears
- providing false information.
- for failing to manage their property effectively

This variation will be applied along with any enforcement action that is required and will result in the property requiring re-licensing when that time period has expired.

The licensing fee pays for the staff to administer and enforce the scheme. It also part funds services and activities such as legal support, communication and management. We also recognise that being a landlord can be difficult. For this reason, we have built the cost of supporting landlords into the scheme. This will include helpful information and two dedicated members of staff to work alongside landlords. The estimated costs and income associated with the scheme for the fiveyear period are detailed in the tables below:

Estimated cost of running the licensing schemes for five years.

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

Expenditure Type	Estimate Total for 5 years
Staff Costs (inc Corporate overheads administration, inspection and enforcement)	£7,423,866
IT costs	116,313
Communications
Legal costs	250,000
Support and Resources	1,020,774
Total	£8,810,953

Estimated fee income received

	No. of Licences issued	5 year total
Year 1	8,383	3,841,384
Year 2	3,819	2,861,930
Year 3	881	700,078
Year 4	752	621,258
Year 5	911	786,302
Total	14,745	8,810,953

How will the scheme be delivered?

Our overriding priority for introducing the scheme is to significantly improve property conditions in the private rented sector.

We want to ensure that good landlords can self-certify that their property meets the required standard and receive a light touch approach to checking that they are compliant. Where the council receives information to suggest that the property is not compliant, more robust checks will be carried out. We intend to inspect all HMO properties over the period of the scheme and all other properties if they are flagged as high risk or problematic properties.

The scheme also covers providing advice and assistance to landlords and offering guidance to help them meet their legal responsibilities. Our aim is to work with landlords, to secure improvement and support the sector to thrive.

Additional and Selective Licensing – Consultation proposal

Consultation

We are carrying out a consultation for a 12- week period, starting on 11th December 2017 and finishing on 5th March 2018. During that time an on- line short questionnaire will be available to complete and a number of drop in sessions will be held throughout the borough. Three public meetings will take place and the feedback received through the questionnaire responses and public sessions will be evaluated by an independent outside agency – M.E.L. Research Ltd. The results of the consultation exercise will be made publicly available.

The council's web site will include all the details about the public consultation, including the dates and locations of drop in sessions and meetings.

For anyone wishing to contact the council during the public consultation can do so by emailing: PropertyLicensing@haringey.gov.uk or telephoning 020 8489 6934.

Appendix 3: Survey

Private Rented Properties – Licensing consultation

We want your views on our proposal to introduce two new property licensing schemes to improve the local environment and the housing conditions of renters in the private sector.

The survey will take around 5 minutes to complete.

The consultation opens on 11th December 2017 and closes on 5th March 2018. The results and final recommendations will be reported back to Cabinet in June 2018. If you have any queries please email PropertyLicensing@haringey.gov.uk

What is property licensing?

Local Councils can choose to require private landlords or their agents to obtain a licence to rent out their property. A licence usually lasts for five years and landlords have to keep their property safe and well maintained as well as deal with any problems associated with the property such as dumped rubbish, untidy gardens or anti-social behaviour.

There are three types of licensing schemes:

Mandatory Licensing – Since 2004, all councils have had to run a licensing scheme for large houses in multiple occupation (HMOs). Any HMO that has three or more storeys with five or more people living as two or more households and sharing amenities has to be licensed.

Additional Licensing – Councils can introduce Additional Licensing to cover any other type of HMO in their area.

Selective Licensing – this type of scheme covers all other private rented properties.

Further information about the different types of licensing can be found here.

Landlords have to pay a licensing fee for each property they rent out. The licensing fee covers the cost of the scheme and allows the council to employ staff to check the condition of private rented properties in the area and make sure that the correct management arrangements are in place. The fee can also be used to support landlords by offering them advice and guidance.

Haringey already has two licensing schemes – A Mandatory licensing scheme and an Additional licensing scheme in the Tottenham area.

The Council believes that extending their current licensing scheme to cover all HMOs in the borough as well as introducing a Selective Licensing Scheme for all other privately rented properties in smaller areas across the borough will:

- Improve the living arrangements of many private sector tenants by improving the condition of properties.
- Reduce property related crime, anti-social behaviour and rubbish dumping.
- Support good landlords and remove rogue landlords from operating in the borough.
- Improve the image of an area, making it a desirable place to live.

Disability

Under the Equality Act 2010, a person is considered to have a disability if she/he has a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on her/his ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. Haringey Council accepts the social model of disability. However, in order to be able to identify and respond to your specific needs, it is important to know what kind of disability you have.

Response 1

Madam/Sir,

I write to strongly object to the proposal by Haringey Borough Council (HBC) to impose selective licensing to private rented properties located in 29 LSO areas within the Borough. I particularly object to inclusion of the LSO containing the even side of Milton Park which is patently absurd and unfair. The basis for my objection is set out in full below and I ask that these significant concerns are considered as part of the formal consultation.

I agree that it is important to maintain a well-managed private rental sector that seeks to maintain the same high standards throughout the sector and in all locations and reduce problems caused by anti-social behaviour, fly tipping and property related crime; and increase good landlords and eliminate rogue landlords.

There is no evidence to indicate that these problems are more characteristic of the areas identified for inclusion in the selective licensing scheme than anywhere else. More specifically, the evidence provided as part of this consultation lacks clarity in terms of its methodology and cannot be considered sufficiently specific to dictate the inclusion or exclusion of one street over another, let alone individual properties on any given street.

This is the case in relation to Milton Park in Highgate Ward. The evidence provided for Highgate Ward suggests this is an area with a mean index score well below the Borough average (63 compared to 100) and which sits joint fourth with Crouch End Ward in terms of the best performing Wards when measured against all of the selected criteria. Despite this, a section of the Ward has still been included in for proposed selective licensing, including even numbered properties along one side of Milton Park. Aside from my concerns regarding the flawed approach of such a scheme as noted above, there can be no justification for selecting even numbered properties and omitting odd numbered properties on the street. This is absurd, unfair, and discriminatory in explicitly labelling specific properties as having a higher potential to attract anti-social and criminal activity. Rather than direct extensive time and finance towards seeking to implement this fundamentally flawed selective licensing scheme, HBC should be seeking to effectively and comprehensively implement the measures already within their remit through planning, building control, and environmental protection to all properties within the Borough.

Selective licensing in this manner is both unjustified and discriminatory and it distracts from the overarching objective of improving the condition of properties throughout all housing sectors across the Borough.

Subject: Milton Park (Licensing Consultation Objection)

Dear xxx,

Further to xxx's email on behalf of the Milton Park Neighbourhood Watch Group, we would also like to submit our objection to Milton Park's inclusion in the selective-licensing scheme on a personal basis.

Our reasons are the same as laid out in the email below. We believe that the data is flawed and that Milton Park has been included in error. Whilst the underlying data has not been shared with residents, we believe that scrubbing it for the type of anomalies described would see Milton Park being removed from the proposal.

We are home owners rather than landlords on Milton Park, and we broadly agree with landlord licensing, however, incorrectly including Milton Park in the Haringey scheme means that Haringey won't be directing resource and rolling-out licensing / protection to an area / tenants that really need it.

Kind regards,

Subject: Re: Milton Park (Licensing Consultation Objection)

Dear xxx,

Thank you for the response; however, it does not provide the detail needed to scrutinise and properly analyse how the even-numbered properties of Milton Park have ended up in your proposal. For the purpose of the consultation period, please note that, as the local Neighbourhood Watch Coordinator, I object to Milton Park being included in Haringey's selective-licensing programme.

Milton Park is a small community where a lot of the neighbours know each other and where we have some very long-standing residents who have been here for decades. The conclusions in your report are simply not ones we recognise here on the ground, especially the comments on crime / ASB. In addition to this feedback from the residents, this is the feedback from our Met. Police Safer Neighbourhood Team:

"...from our point of view (Highgate SNT) Milton Park is not an area where we get notified about many anti-social behaviour type problems... Normally with ASB, we would be notified from either the person suffering from it, and or another authority such as council or housing association etc so we don't often miss these incidents."

Somewhere the data on Milton Park is flawed. Without seeing the underlying data, I would hazard a guess that two things are skewing it:

- 1) the even-numbered properties back onto the Parkland Walk, which has incidences of fly-tipping and crime that should be excluded from any property analysis (and certainly not assigned to a property within 25m).
- 2) In addition, the even-numbered side of the road houses St Mungos, which is a specialist charity that aims to help people with enduring mental health problems who want to live independently in the community (but, as a result, has had some incidences of ASB). Again, this is an anomaly that should be excluded from your data.

As per my initial email, I am broadly supportive of licensing in order to protect tenants; however, by incorrectly including Milton Park, you are missing out on including addresses that are genuinely in need of this sort of licensing.

At a minimum, the data needs to be scrubbed for any anomalies such as those I have mentioned above. In addition, I am happy to arrange a tour for you and our local Safer Neighbourhood Team so you can see what an incredibly standard residential street Milton Park is, and why it should not be included in Haringey's licensing scheme.

Kind regards, xxxx

Subject: Objection to Milton Park, Highgate, N6 proposals

Dear xxx,

I am emailing in response to the consultation on property licensing in Milton Park, N6

I wish to record strong objections to the proposed selective licensing area centred on the evennumbered side of Milton Park N6 for the following reasons:

1. To impose restrictions and charges on the owners of rented property on the even-numbered side of Milton Park only and not on the uneven numbered side is discriminatory and illogical; why not both sides of the street?
2. To impose restrictions and charges on the owners of rented property in Milton Park only and no other road in the Milton's' (Milton Road, Milton Avenue and Langdon Park Road) of which it forms a part, is again discriminatory, illogical and quite probably improper
3. I understand from contact that I have had with fellow residents of Milton Park that Haringey Council claims that the purpose of the licensing area is to deal with problems of substandard property, antisocial behaviour or crime.

What evidence does the council have to support these claims?

There is no evidence that the even side of Milton Park is more prone to such problems than the uneven numbered side, the rest of the Milton's or the majority of the rest of Haringey which is not being proposed for licensing. And to imply that landlords and tenants on the even side of Milton Park are a source of crime and antisocial behaviour, or that their property is more likely to be substandard than elsewhere, is quite probably discriminatory and defamatory.

- Do you have statistics from the Metropolitan Police in Haringey Borough to support your assertion that more crime is committed in the odd numbered properties in Milton Park? And If there is extra crime in the area, how much of it is committed by people living in council owned properties, of which there are a few in the Milton's?

Having lived on the even side of Milton Park for 30 years now I would contend that the police are called more often to incidents in Milton Road & Milton Avenue than they are in Milton Park, and that most of the incidents in Milton Park relate to the hostel that Haringey Council runs in conjunction with St. Mungo's at 88 Milton Park. However, you appear to be forgetting the problems there are associated with that building

- Have Haringey Council inspected every even numbered building on Milton Park, because to my knowledge the council have not inspected the building I live in at 80 Milton Park nor have we received a request for them to do so?

If Haringey Council have inspected even numbered buildings, will they supply the residents of those buildings with copies of their findings that will back up their assertion that they are in a sub-standard condition?

If you speak to local estate agents they will tell you that contrary to the councils' assertion, the properties on the even numbered side of Milton Park and which back onto Parkland Walk are generally in better condition than in Milton Road and Milton Avenue. In fact, Milton Park is regarded as the best road out of the three Milton roads to own a property in and this is reflected in property prices.

4. I have no received no correspondence from nor a visit from Haringey Council officials to discuss their proposals which is surely in breach of the councils' charter to explain and fully consult with residents before making any changes
5. I understand from xxx that that Haringey Council have not responded to requests from Milton Park residents for the methodology and data underpinning their targeting of the even side of Milton Park in December 2017. This is surely in breach of the council's consultation charter which requires you to give residents a proper say in the decision - making process and provide enough information to help them make an informed decision on the neighbourhood in which they live. It is certainly contrary to the requirement for open, accountable local government and in my view this probably amounts to a charge of maladministration.
6. As I understand it Haringey Council is legally obliged to carry out its work in a way that is fair, logical and supported by independently verifiable evidence. Unfortunately, because of the lack of transparency regarding this process and the significant gaps in the methodology you have followed it cannot be argued that you have done so.

To conclude I am requesting that Haringey Council takes into account the concerns of Milton Park, N6 residents before making a final decision on this scheme and specifically, takes account of my own personal objections.

Subject: Objection to Selective licensing in Milton Park

Dear xxx

I am writing in response to the consultation on property licensing in Haringey, with particular reference to Milton Park.

I strongly object to the proposed selective licensing area centred on the even-numbered side of Milton Park N6 as from what I've read there's no clear reasoning or factual data behind the move.

I've lived in the area for four years and have never encountered any anti-social behaviour in the street, let alone only on the even-numbered side of the road! To suggest one side of Milton Park is guilty of being home to rogue landlords and anti-social behaviour is laughable.

The maps provided on the council website as part of this consultation point to be fact that the Miltons in general sees very little crime, ATB or any other factors you were evaluating compared to other areas of Haringey so to be lumped in with them beggars belief.

Please, may you reconsider your proposed designation of Milton Park within this selective licensing programme.

Response 6

Subject: Property licensing: response to consultation Milton Park

Dear xxx and Property Licensing consultation

I am writing in response to the consultation on property licensing.

I wish to record my strong objection to the proposed selective licensing area centred on the evennumbered side of Milton Park N6 for the following reasons:

1. To impose special obligations, restrictions and charges on the owners of rented property on the even-numbered side of Milton Park only and no other road in the Miltons area (Milton Road, Milton Avenue and Langdon Park Road) of which it forms part is unfair, unreasonable and unwarranted.
2. The council claims that the purpose of the licensing area is to deal with problems of substandard property, antisocial behaviour or crime. There is no evidence that the even side of Milton Park is more prone to such problems than the other side, the rest of the Miltons or 80% of the rest of Haringey (which is not proposed for licensing). I have lived on the even side of Milton Park for 9 years and I have never experienced any such problems. Is crime from the Parkland Walk being included on our road as the basis for this?

3. The two sides of Milton Park are self-evidently in the same area as each other so the singling out of one side, but not the other, to be in a licensing area is illogical and improper.
4. To imply that landlords and tenants on the even side of Milton Park are a particular source of crime and antisocial behaviour, or that their property is more likely to be substandard than elsewhere, is discriminatory and defamatory.
5. Any designation of a selective licensing scheme must be carried out in a way that is fair, logical and supported by independently verifiable evidence. For the current consultation to be meaningful it would have been essential for the Council to be fully clear and transparent about the way it came to its conclusions, from the beginning, and provide the means by which its conclusions could be verified by affected parties. My neighbours have requested this information but it has not been provided. .

NO...NO...NO...

...it is unreasonable to impose charges on even-numbered properties in Milton Park.

Response 9

Subject: Selective Licensing - Milton Park

Dear Sir or Madam,

I have recently discovered that Haringey Council is going to introduce a Selective Licensing Scheme in my area. I am a flat owner in Milton Park N6 and I live in the property. Based on your criteria the licensing scheme is to be introduced in areas "scoring the highest for poor housing conditions, ASB and crime." Deeming an area as "scoring the highest for poor housing conditions, ASB and crime" will affect property prices in the neighbourhood. I am not aware that Milton Park meets such criteria.

I would like to see evidence that Milton Park where I live is an area of "poor housing conditions, ABS and crime" with stats higher than average for "a significant and persistent problem with private rented property related ASB."

If your decision is based on flawed evidence and will affect the property prices I will seek compensation for financial losses caused by introducing the scheme.

Response 10

Subject: Selective Licensing Consultation

Dear xxx

Re: Selective Property Licencing

I am an owner of a rented property in Milton Park and therefore will be affected by the proposed Selective Licencing.

I strongly object to the new scheme that is being posed on the owners of rented properties on the even side of Milton Park. The predicted model used is utterly baseless and amounts to discrimination to one side of residents over the other. Additionally none of the other roads such as Milton Road and Milton Avenue in the Miltons have been included in this scheme.

I attended the first consultation in Jackson Lane in January 2018 and questioned the basis on which the decision was made to include the even side of Milton Park in the scheme. The response from both the Council Officers and the Consulting firm was very generic and answers were neither specific nor informative.

By single outing the even numbered properties in Milton Park, the Council is implying that these properties are sub-standard and prone to crime and anti-social behaviour. This is totalling discriminative, defamatory and un-substantiated and also discriminates renters over owner occupiers.

Furthermore the Council's proposed Selective Licence requirements would incur additional burden to the landlords in the form of time, effort and monetary costs, these costs would ultimately be passed on to the tenants which is exactly what the Council is trying to minimise.

To have our property under such a scheme will render our property less attractive than some of the other properties around the same area to both future potential buyers and renters.

We as landlords are already complying with tenants referencing (to protect our most valuable asset), EPC, Gas Safety, Tenancy Deposit, Right-to-Rent, How-to-Rent along with the current additional requirement to have Minimum Energy Efficiency Standard (MEES).

We are well aware of our role as landlords within the Private Rented Sector (PRS), we do not need the Council to tell us how to run our business by imposing new requirements that deviates from already established practice in PRS such as requiring one week's notice to enter property, character referencing etc.

I request a prompt reply detailing the rationale behind the selection process to include the Milton Park, with full transparent and justifiable reasoning.

Subject: Selective Licensing proposal: Even numbered side of Milton Park

Dear xxx,

I am writing as the owner of a first floor flat in xx Milton Park. I rent out my flat to a single tenant, a very pleasant middle aged woman who has been living there under yearly assured shorthold tenancy agreements for around 5 or more years. Before that my flat was rented to the same tenant for around 9 years. Prior to renting out the flat I lived there with my family before I moved abroad for work reasons. Ever since I have owned it, the other flats in the building have either been rented out to stable and respectable, professional tenants or occupied by the owners and family members.

I am worried about the proposal to designate the even numbered buildings in Milton Park as a Selective Licensing Area. In the approximately 16 years since I have owned my flat I have not encountered antisocial behaviour, crime or flytipping etc more that one would find in any other nice part of north London. In fact over the last few years when I have visited the property I have noticed that the cleanliness of the area and external condition and decoration of the buildings has considerably improved, and property owners are investing in improving their properties. This is the case with all parts of the "Miltons" roads, including the even numbered side of Milton Park.

I therefore fail to understand why this side of the road has been singled out in this way. There appears to be no justification for it in Haringey's consultation documents.

I am very concerned that if one side of the road is designated in this way it will lead to a lowering of the value of those properties. As a result there would be a decrease in the amount that building owners will be willing to spend on improving those properties. It could lead to a very unfortunate slow-down or reversal of the improvement of the area which we have welcomed in the last few years. Indeed, as an owner of the building's freehold we have been discussing improvements to no.xx Milton Park. The thought that the building has in effect been condemned in this way would seriously effect our actions.

Our concern is heightened by the unfairness in designating only one side of the road in this way without any proper explanation or justification.

Please take my comments into account as part of the consultation process.

Subject: London Borough of Haringey – Property Licensing Consultation – Public Meetings

Thank you for your reply. I accept your apology, but I know that from the responses I received I was not the only disgruntled recipient.

Just to spell the situation out once again. A paper copy of the questionnaire is no good, I am NOT currently in the UK and I have filled out the on-line questionnaire. What I hope to do is to email a letter to someone, somewhere where my opinion will be heard 'Loud and Clear'.

I am very much anti this licence scheme for small private landlords that are renting, most via reputable agents, and offering high quality accommodation for 3 sharers, who undertake a Assured Shorthold Tenancy as a small profession group.

I feel that Haringey's proposal is an extremely bad idea and invention to generate more money for the borough. I assure you that this will jump up and bite you as many small professional, but caring and law abiding landlords will withdraw their properties from the rental market, making an even greater shortage of good stock for the professional tenants in our Capital.

Please in the meantime would you ensure that this email is passed on to the relevant counsellors or staff members who have drummed up this absurd proposal.

Response 13

Re: Additional and Selective Property Licensing Consultation

We, the occupants/owner of garden flats [REDACTED] Belmont Road, London N15 [REDACTED] are in total agreement and fully support Haringey Council's proposed scheme that landlords of private rented properties should require a licence to rent out their property. This pertains to the landlord of [REDACTED] and the tenants therein.

The problems with the current tenants are:

Anti-social behaviour – excessive noise levels

Rubbish dumping

Mice infestation

Illegal parking [REDACTED]

We believe that it is time to stop private landlords letting their properties to, in this case, in all likelihood are council tenants – the letters from Homes for Haringey for flat [REDACTED] are addressed to [REDACTED]. This anti-social family moved in on 16 Feb which next month on that exact date will be four years.

The Enforcement Response Team have all incidences of the excessive noise levels from [REDACTED] dating back to the time when the family moved into [REDACTED]. The latest incident was on Saturday 13 January 2018 – reference [REDACTED] – Mr [REDACTED] of the team was the team member who responded to this latest call.

Response 14

Subject: Additional and Selective Property Licensing (“Licensing”) Consultation

We refer to your undated letter delivered by hand and received from the tenants this week.

Given the Council has our details from the Council Tax Register and the same are easily available from the Land Registry, please explain why your letter was not delivered directly to us as Landlord if it is landlord's opinions that you wish to elicit. Such delivery would have allowed easier communication with us. If it is only non-landlord's views you want, then please explain what sort of balanced consultation you are trying to hold. As a result of what looks like selecting the recipients before looking at the picture, we are left with the feeling that your letter is merely to go through the motions of a consultation, rather than to seek landlord's opinion properly, widely and openly. We trust this is not the case and would be obliged to receive your assurances in respect thereof.

Turning to the subject matter of the letter, we would strongly like to urge Haringey councilors and directors of policy to consider the unintended consequences and the harm that such Licensing implementations could do to areas like Crouch End and to drop this ill-proposed action.

Contrary to what we are sure to be your expectations, by introducing Licensing, we respectfully suggest that you will not change the face of Haringey or any part of it for the following reasons:

1. existing HMOs will still remain in the condition they are currently if they are owned by persons who have scant regard for the law anyway. Such persons are beyond reach by your registration and Licensing proposals. They are able to undercut landlords like us who are members of national bodies and who are accredited. (NB we are accredited because we want to be members and accredited, voluntarily, not forced to be)
2. Making Landlords join schemes mandatorily just breeds discontent and antagonism toward the Council
3. Landlords who are already giving a good service to their tenants and who will register to be licensed because they are forced to register, by contrast to those landlords described in para.1, will find that their costs of running their property will increase. This is not only due to the application fees which you will impose, but also in relation altering their property to comply with arbitrary and questionable "standards" as well as to ongoing increases in running costs. These costs will inevitably be passed on to the tenants by ways of increased rent.
4. Occupiers of tenanted properties are generally happy with their accommodation and do not wish to suffer disruption for the installation of pointless measures eg (having spoken to tenants directly elsewhere) window restraints that restrict window opening, fan extractors when opening windows will do, and so on. Such tenants certainly do not wish to pay for the introduction of these measures that they do not want either.
5. Landlords are already responsible for keeping their property safe and to have insurance thereon to cover such matters; why duplicate this?
6. If landlords are to be registered why stop there? Why not have all the plumbers, decorators and handymen that the landlords use in maintaining their property registered also? Following your argument's logic, this will raise standards throughout (as well as prices) so that the tenants will benefit. This is plainly nonsense.

7. Merely legislating against things or requiring registration is not going to stop things happening. There are many rules on the statute book already covering the aspects you mention: why is the Council not enforcing those rather than introducing new measures?
8. Landlords are not a legitimate means to impose social order on others: if tenants are making a nuisance of themselves, the Police or the Council Noise Patrol is the proper arm to exercise control. Given that a Landlord cannot enter into a property without his tenants' consent but they can sublet it (even contrary to the provisions of a tenancy agreement) to others, or via AirBnB, who may be noisy and untidy, how can a Landlord effectively control what happens inside or outside his property and why should he be responsible for tenants who are exercising their free-will. By the measures you seek to impose, you are making landlords responsible for the activities in the property over which they have no control and have no tools to implement apart from costly, lengthy and uncertain in outcome court action. Such action is surely for the Police to pursue and the Council to enforce directly against those who are carrying on the nuisance.
9. You may prevent more HMOs from emerging but existing ones will still remain as frozen communities - no closer to reverting to family areas (if that is the ultimate aim) than they are now.

We propose instead that the future lays with other solutions such as the Council and colleges educating tenants to consider what impact their actions have upon others, how to live sensibly, cleanly and sanitarily in accommodation, the Council fining the noise-maker or rubbish-dumper directly.

We say this because, underlying all this, it is Haringey Council's own responsibility to provide a sanitary, safe and non-threatening environment. Further, instead of assisting by making available (directly or indirectly) satisfactory rented housing for local people (whose income level or chosen lifestyle rely on a plentiful supply of affordable, and often shared, housing), the Council is effectively pricing those very people out of accommodation. This is for what looks very much like ideological reasons.

If it becomes too expensive for three sharers in a property, either a sub-tenant will be taken in by them surreptitiously or the displaced person (ie the flat reduces to a two-person) will now be looking for accommodation elsewhere and the pressure on accommodation will grow not decrease. In either scenario you will have achieved exactly the opposite of what you intended to do by this ill-thoughtout scheme.

This continues into the longer term, particularly in the student community – many of whom chose to stay on in Haringey after graduation, to begin their career with local business, and still then need a low-cost housing option until they have cleared the heavy debt of their education, and for low income earners, too, for whom renting is the only choice.

If councillors and policy chiefs feel they have a problem with tenant behaviour or the management of properties in certain areas there are other ways of dealing with this than by changing introducing registers or new planning laws. Organisations like the National Landlords Association or the Residential Landlords Association, of which we are a member, recognise an inherent danger in such licensing or creating 'no-go HMO zones' where the abhorrent spectre of social engineering would seek to deny sections of society the freedom to live where they choose.

The result is that we can only see losers the Licensing proposals are adopted. Please don't make it impossible, or even more difficult than it is, for private sector landlords to provide affordable homes, this is especially the case in these difficult economic times when most people need all the help they can get.

Yours sincerely

Glencourt Properties

Subject: For inclusion in private rented properties licensing consultation

I write to strongly object to the proposal by Haringey Council to introduce selective licensing for privately rented properties.

Kindly acknowledge this email and confirm that it will be included in the comments objecting to the proposal.

The reason for my objection is that the well meant intentions that you are seeking can be achieved through existing powers made available to the council.

It is simply unfair and discriminatory to identify 29 areas within the borough which you consider to be more at risk without providing detailed evidence to support your assertions.

I rent out two flats on the even numbered side of Milton Park and it is simply absurd and indeed insulting to suggest that my tenants are somehow responsible for more antisocial behaviour and criminality than those who live in even numbered houses on the street.

I understand from other individuals who live in Milton Park that their repeated requests for you to provide the detailed analysis and assumptions on which you have selected part of Milton Park for inclusion in the selective licensing scheme have not been forthcoming and this only leads to greater suspicion as to the motives behind your intentions. Therefore, in the interests of transparency, please publish this information as a matter of urgency.

As you will be aware, Milton Park is one of the most prosperous areas within our borough and yet it seems to have been targeted by yourselves when other less prosperous areas such as Wood Green and Tottenham have been left out of your proposals.

This only reinforces the view that the council is misguided in its approach to matters.

In conclusion, Haringey Council has sufficient powers available to it within existing legislation to tackle the issues that it perceives to be in existence across the borough and with this in mind any form of licensing of private landlords, whether selective or otherwise, is unnecessary and prejudicial.

Response 16

Re: Consultation on Selective Property Licensing

I have recently returned to London from business abroad and have noted the leaflets you have circulated regarding the above.

In this instance it reeks of yet more stealth taxes by our borough much the same as parking control zones where, for example, in my own locale the restrictions between 10 am – 12 am are worthless and only, for a short while each day, give us any opportunity of parking anywhere near our homes.

In this instance, I have knowledge of letting institutions operating in Haringey whose very modus operandi is far from an example of the need for such licensing but, in fact, very much the reverse and where their standard of care for tenants and general administration can only be applauded as an example to all; this being where young relatives have come to London wishing to live somewhere near to us and have taken up tenancies locally and where the rapport, ethics and management of the Landlords has been second to none – even to the point, in fact, where the Landlords issue statements quarterly showing the tenancy security deposits accruing interest. The firm also have accreditation with the NLA.

On speaking with them, off the cuff so to speak, they mentioned that a similar licensing scheme in Newham eventually meant Landlords passing on the licensing and extra admin costs down the line to the tenants and this is certainly not what is required of our borough council.

Diligence in this arena of housing is clearly needed to root out those operators who create this atmosphere where concern is heralded about poor liaison with tenants, lack of attention to standards, and health & safety but NOT in an all encompassing scheme which will foist licensing payments on operations with good standards of care and management who will understandably pass down the chain to local tenants those same costs.

Repeated layers of regulation have already given excellent protection for tenants and any licensing scheme must not penalize those operators who are welcomed in our area to set standards but should be geared towards regulating those who cannot operate in providing good standard accommodation at a fair price in these days where becoming a home-owner is so difficult for the young professional generation.

National Landlords Association

Response to Haringey Borough Council's proposal for selective licensing

March 2018

Introduction

1. The National Landlords Association (NLA) exists to protect and promote the interests of private residential landlords.
2. The NLA represents more than 72,000 individual landlords from around the United Kingdom. We provide a comprehensive range of benefits and services to our members and strive to raise standards within the private rented sector.
3. We seek a fair legislative and regulatory environment for the private rented sector, while aiming to ensure that landlords are aware of their statutory rights and responsibilities.
4. We thank Haringey Borough Council for providing us with the opportunity to comment on the selective licensing proposal.

Executive summary

5. Having considered the evidence presented, and having undertaken our own evaluation of the circumstances faced by the residents of Haringey, our position can be summarised by the following brief points:
- Landlords have very limited authority when dealing with matters related to antisocial behaviour, especially if it happens outside the curtilage of the property.
 - The council has failed to provide evidence of a direct link between recorded housing crime and the private rented sector.
 - The scheme will lead to a further displacement of problem tenants in Haringey.
 - Selective licensing will have the effect of stigmatising the designated area.
 - The documentation provided fails to indicate that sufficient funding will be available to support the introduction of licensing. Can the council guarantee that every house will be inspected as outlined in law?
 - The council has failed to say how it will prevent malicious claims of antisocial behaviour being made, which could result in tenants losing their tenancies. Can this be provided?
 - The document says that Haringey Borough Council will use all its legal powers. However, if it were to use the powers it already has, this would solve the issues and it would not then require selective licensing. In 2016, it prosecuted only 7 landlords and served only 33 improvement notices.
 - The council has not published its strategy for dealing with chaotic and antisocial tenants. This should run in conjunction with the current proposal.
 - The council has failed to say how the proposal will tackle rent-to-rent and subletting, or even Airbnb.
6. We contend that the flaws in the process and proposals, as outlined above, must be rectified before this application is progressed. Furthermore, once the necessary data has been identified and provided, this consultation exercise should be repeated (if permissible) to ensure engagement with all relevant stakeholders.

General feedback on proposals

7. Licensing is a powerful tool. If used correctly by Haringey Borough Council, it could resolve a number of specific issues. We have supported many local authorities in the introduction of licensing schemes that benefit landlords, tenants and the community. However, in this case, the council's lack of evidence does not support its arguments for the introduction of licensing.
8. We believe that any regulation of the private rented sector must be balanced. Additional regulatory burdens should focus on increasing the professionalism of landlords, improving the quality of the private rented stock and driving out the criminals who act as landlords and blight the sector. These should be the shared objectives of all the parties involved, in order to facilitate the best possible outcomes for landlords and tenants alike. Good practice should be recognised and encouraged, in addition to the required focus on enforcement activity. This is not the case here.
9. In addition, the proposal does not take into account rent-to-rent or those who exploit people (both tenants and landlords). Criminals will always play the system. For instance, there is no provision for landlords who have legally rented out a property that has later been illegally sublet. The council is not allocating resources to tackle the problems that criminals may cause. Often, landlords are victims, just as much as tenants. What support will the council provide for landlords to whom this has happened?

10. Newham reorganised the council services needed to deliver their licensing scheme. Here, a joined-up coordinated approach within the council will also be required. Additional costs in relation to adult social care along with children's services and housing will undoubtedly be incurred if the council's goal is to be achieved. Yet there is no evidence from the council that this reorganisation will be done – can this be provided?
11. The issue of overcrowding is difficult for a landlord to manage if it is the tenant that has overfilled the property. A landlord can tell a tenant how many people are permitted to live in the property, and that the tenant is not to sublet it or allow additional people to live there. But beyond that, how is the landlord to manage this matter without interfering with the tenant's welfare? Equally, how will the council assist landlords when this problem arises? It is impractical for landlords to monitor the everyday activities or sleeping arrangements of tenants. Where overcrowding does take place, the people involved know what they are doing and usually are criminals, not true landlords. The council already has the powers necessary to deal with this problem. This also raises concerns for the NLA as this is not currently being undertaken by the council.
12. The proposal fails to address the link between homelessness and the effect that licensing will have on tenants in Haringey. This impact on tenancies due to a selective licensing scheme is absent from the document.
13. Landlords are usually not experienced in the management of antisocial behaviour and do not have the professional capacity to resolve tenants' mental health issues or drug and alcohol dependency. If there are allegations about a tenant causing problems (e.g. antisocial behaviour) and a landlord then ends the tenancy, the landlord will have dispatched their obligations under the selective licensing scheme, even if the tenant has any of the above issues. This just moves the problems around Haringey if the tenant seeks rehousing elsewhere in the area, but does not actually help the tenant, who could even become lost in the system. There is no obligation within selective licensing for the landlord to resolve an allegation of antisocial behaviour. Rather, a landlord has a tenancy agreement with a tenant and this is the only thing that the landlord can legally enforce.
14. Haringey Borough Council has many existing powers. Section 57(4) of the Housing Act 2004 implies that a local authority must not make a designation 'unless (a) they have considered whether there are any other courses of action available to them [...] that might provide an effective method [for Haringey Borough Council to deal] with the problem or problems in question'. The council already has powers that can be used to rectify the problems and, hence, the ability to tackle many of the issues that it wishes to overcome in all parts of Haringey. These include:
 - criminal behaviour orders
 - crime prevention injunctions
 - interim management orders
 - empty dwelling management orders
 - improvement notices (for homes that do not meet the Decent Homes Standard)
 - litter abatement notices (section 92 of the Environmental Protection Act 1990)
 - fixed penalty notices or confiscation of equipment (sections 8 and 10 of the Noise Act 1996)
 - directions regarding the disposal of waste (e.g. section 46 of the Environmental Protection Act 1990)
 - notices to remove rubbish from land (sections 2–4 of the Prevention of Damage by Pests Act 1949).

15. In the last year, the council has prosecuted only 7 landlords and served only 33 improvement notices. Therefore, it either does not have the problems it claims to have – as it is not resolving many issues! – or it is failing to use its existing powers. It would be better if the council were to use the powers that already exist to solve issues that it claims exist before undertaking new licensing.
16. At the commencement of a tenancy, the landlord outlines the tenant's obligations in relation to noise (and other matters, such as waste disposal, compliance with relevant laws and having consideration for neighbours). Throughout the period of a tenancy, the landlord can manage a tenant only to the extent of their mutually agreed contract for living in the rented property – not a tenant's activities in the street outside the property or in neighbouring streets. In the case of a noise complaint, the council would have to inform the landlord that the tenant was being excessively noisy. The landlord then has the right either to warn the tenant or to end the tenancy. If the allegation is false or disingenuous, how is the landlord to know? If the same allegation is made on more than one occasion, the landlord may end the tenancy based on an unproven allegation or because the council says that there is a problem. This does not solve the problem but rather moves it around the borough if the tenant seeks rehousing elsewhere in the area. The same applies to household refuse and antisocial behaviour issues. The tenant could be labelled as guilty without having faced a trial. Under the reference condition of selective licensing, a guilty judgement can be made without an accusation being tested by a court.
17. The ending of a tenancy will be a way for a landlord to resolve an allegation of antisocial behaviour, even if it is malicious. This will not resolve the issue of high tenancy turnover; it will actually exacerbate it.
18. The introduction of licensing is likely to increase costs for tenants without solving the problems that the council is trying to target. It will likely move the issues around the borough and displace them to new landlords if tenants move to other properties in the area. The issues would be better resolved by a more erudite approach to deal with nuisance and a separate policy to tackle criminals acting as landlords.
19. Often when tenants are nearing the end of their contract/tenancy and are in the process of moving out, they will dispose of excess household waste by a variety of methods. This includes putting waste out on the street for the council to collect. This is made worse when the council does not allow landlords access to municipal waste collection points. Local authorities with a large number of private rented sector properties need to consider a strategy for the collection of excess waste at the end of tenancies. We would be willing to work with the council to help develop such a strategy. One example is the Leeds Rental Standard, which works with landlords and landlord associations to resolve issues.
20. One of the arguments the council has put forward is that selective licensing is being introduced due to the size of the PRS. Can the council clarify: a) is it the council's policy to reduce the PRS in these areas; and b) where does the council wish to see PRS grow in the borough?

Negative impacts of discretionary licensing

21. One of the dangers of the proposed selective licensing scheme is that the costs will be passed on to tenants. This would increase costs both for those who rent in Haringey and for the council. The increased costs to Haringey residents would particularly hit those most vulnerable and least able to tolerate even a marginal increase in their cost of living. Also, the council has failed to explain that, as well as the council's costs for the licence, landlords will likely cover their increased costs by raising rent prices. The failure to explain this shows a lack of understanding of how the private rented sector works. The lack of housing to rent in Haringey is already seeing the council offer £4,000 plus to landlords outside of Haringey to take tenants. This policy will only increase costs to the council, and tenants.

22. Areas that have been subject to the introduction of selective licensing have seen lenders withdraw mortgage products, thereby reducing the options available to landlords who are reliant on finance. Downstream, this increases overheads for landlords and tenants. The lenders that withdraw mortgage availability from a landlord will appear on that landlord's credit history. Other mortgage lenders will then likely put a higher cost on the landlord, which will undoubtedly ultimately reach the tenant.
23. Defining areas of Haringey Borough as problem zones in the consultation will not encourage lending or investment in those areas. This stigmatisation will be reflected in property values within these zones. Haringey Borough Council, by proposing to introduce licensing, is implying that there are social problems, which could deter investment in those areas. The council does not acknowledge the impact that the stigmatisation of discretionary licensing will likely have. It will, for instance, likely increase all car and house insurance premiums, but the council has not told Haringey residents about this. We assert that failure to provide such information indicates a substandard and, ultimately, superficial consultation exercise.
24. One of the council's reasons appears to be a contradiction: it wishes to increase the rents that landlords will receive in the area, while at the same time it expects them to sell their properties. One of the council's aims in the consultation document is to reduce the number of privately rented properties. Why would landlords sell their properties when the council is trying to make them more profitable for landlords?
25. The social housing sector has made many efforts to remove problem tenants (see table below). How does the council expect landlords to solve these tenants' issues when the social sector has failed? Many of the tenants who have been removed from the social sector are now living in the private rented sector without any support. This selective licensing policy will have a greater impact on those people who are evicted from social housing, as they will not be able to access the PRS as they will fail the reference check (mandatory condition).

Current law

26. A landlord currently has to comply with over 100 pieces of legislation, and for many, the laws with which the private rented sector must comply can be easily misunderstood. A landlord is expected to give the tenant a 'quiet enjoyment' of the property. Failure to do so could result in a harassment case being brought against the landlord. The law within which landlords must operate is not always fully compatible with the aims of the council. For example, a landlord keeping a record of a tenant could be interpreted as harassment.
27. Licensing is introduced to tackle specific issues. Many of these are related to tenants, and have been identified by the council. The challenge for local authorities is to work with all the people involved and not simply to blame one group – e.g. landlords. We are willing to work in partnership with the council to develop tenant information packs, assured shorthold tenancies and the accreditation of landlords, along with targeting the worst properties in a given area.

28. We would also argue that a problem that is restricted to only a few poorly managed and/or poorly maintained properties would not be appropriately tackled by a licensing scheme applied to all – it is not proportionate. In many situations, the council should consider enforcement notices and management orders. The use of such orders would deliver immediate results. So why, instead, does the council wish to address it over a period of five years and through a licensing scheme? A targeted, street-by-street approach, working on specific issues in a coordinated manner with other relevant agencies, such as community groups, tenants and landlords, would have a much greater and quicker impact.
29. We would also like to see the council develop a strategy that includes action against any tenants who are persistent offenders. These measures represent a targeted approach to specific issues, rather than a blanket licensing scheme that would adversely affect all professional landlords and tenants alike, while leaving criminals able to operate covertly. Many of the problems are caused by mental health or drink and drug issues. Landlords cannot resolve these issues and these issues will require additional resources from the council to resolve.

30. In relation to the reduction of antisocial behaviour and the authority that landlords have to tackle such activity within their properties, it should be pointed out that landlords and agents can only enforce a contract; they cannot manage behaviour (NB: House of Commons briefing note SN/SP 264, paragraph 1.1). In most circumstances, the only remedy available to landlords who are confronted with serious antisocial behaviour in one of their properties will be to seek vacant possession. In many instances, they will need to serve a section 21 notice, rather than a section 8 notice, identifying the grounds for possession. The former is simpler and cheaper and repossession (at present) is more certain. No reason need be given for serving a section 21 notice and, in this case, the perpetrator tenant can hypothetically approach the local authority for assistance to be rehoused (NB: Homelessness Guidelines cl 8.2). Crucially, no affected party needs to offer evidence against an antisocial householder, thereby reducing the risk of intimidation, harassment and, ultimately, unsuccessful possession claims. The issue of antisocial behaviour will, thus, not appear as a factor in the repossession. However, when providing evidence to support a licensing application, the document should clarify the position of all the relevant issues under landlord and tenant law.

Requests for supplementary information

31. We are extremely concerned about the gaps in evidence and justification that occur throughout the licensing proposal.
32. We would like clarification on the council's policy in relation to helping a landlord when a section 21 notice is served, the property is overcrowded or the tenant is causing antisocial behaviour, as per what the council says in the consultation. What steps will the council take to support the landlord? It would be useful if the council were to put in place a guidance document before the introduction of the scheme, to outline its position regarding helping landlords to remove tenants who are manifesting antisocial behaviour.
33. We would like a breakdown of antisocial behaviour complaints over the last five years, subdivided into antisocial behaviour that has proven to be housing-related and for the different housing sectors (owner, social and private rented).

34. We would like to know what consideration the council has given to homelessness, where these tenants cannot access the private rented sector.
35. The council has failed to say what additional services will be provided for mental health. This will have an impact on adult social care budgets for the council – and this budget is already under pressure. How much money has been allocated from the council to meet this?
36. Finally, we would like a breakdown of the numbers of orders and powers listed in paragraph 14 that Haringey Borough Council has used over the past five years.

TACKLING ROGUE LANDLORDS IN HARINGEY - THE COMMUNITY CASE FOR SELECTIVE LICENSING

Introduction

During a Haringey Citizens listening campaign in 2017, the issue of poor conditions and rogue landlords in the private rented sector was a consistent issue for people in Haringey. This report examines the state of the Private Rental Sector (PRS) in Haringey and shows why a selective licensing scheme would benefit tenants, and more broadly the borough. Recent rapid expansion of the PRS has left the sector needing increased regulation. Because landlords, through lack of knowledge of standards or in some cases deliberate criminal activity, have left many people experiencing adverse housing conditions. Other London boroughs such as Newham have successfully implemented both additional and selective licensing schemes. This report makes the case for such licensing to be implemented in Haringey, alongside further measures.

This report will be submitted into Haringey Council's Private Rented Property Licensing Consultation running between 11 December 2017 until 5 March 2018.

Decent housing for all

Everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of themselves and their family - including housing. However, London is suffering from a housing crisis which is acutely felt by residents in Haringey. Genuinely affordable, good quality housing allows people to participate in society secure in the knowledge they can live in a safe and stable environment that allows the opportunity to learn and grow. Authorities have the responsibility to using all powers available to them to take action to improve the housing market, which is essential to improving physical and mental health and tackling anti-social behaviour.

Haringey Citizens is an alliance of civil society institutions acting to build power for the common good to create local and regional social change, powered by the community organising charity Citizens UK. Generation Rent campaigns for professionally managed, secure, decent and affordable private rented homes in sustainable communities.

What is the problem in Haringey?

Residents are frustrated at a lack of action being taken by the local authority to tackle rogue landlords in the private rented sector. One solution being explored by local authorities such as Haringey is selective landlord licensing.

An area can introduce selective licensing if it can demonstrate some of the following criteria; high levels of deprivation and crime, raised levels of migration, higher levels antisocial behaviour not tackled by private sector landlords and poor property conditions - all of which Haringey falls under.

Haringey is home to people some of most deprived neighbourhoods in England, particularly in the east, as shown in image 1. Deprivation is a lack of social and economic capital, and those with highest levels of deprivation experience poorer health outcomes. With regards to migration, the 2011 census showed that 45% of Haringey residents are foreign born, which is far greater than the 2015 national average of 13% (Office for National Statistics, 2015) and proportionately bigger than the London average of 37% (Krausova & Vargas-Silva, 2013). Moreover, in 2015/16 Haringey had 101.8 incidents of crime and anti-social behaviour per 1000 people, which is far higher than the national average of 70 per 1000 people (London Borough of Haringey, 2017).

Nationally the latest statistics show that 28% of PRS homes did not meet the Decent Homes Standards in 2015 (Department for Communities and Local Government, 2017). There is roughly 33,500 PRS homes in Haringey (Haringey Council, 2017), therefore it can be estimated that 9380 PRS homes fail to meet desired standards. It is also estimated that 17% of PRS homes nationally contain a category 1 hazard equating to 5695 PRS homes in Haringey (Department for Communities and Local Government, 2017). Category 1 hazards are problems which can be found within a home that produce a serious or imminent risk to health of the occupant/s. These are outlined in the Hazard Health and Safety Rating System (HHSRS) as shown in the appendix.

Local institutions such as St Ignatius Primary School and St Ignatius Church have been experiencing numerous cases of rogue landlords in the Seven Sisters area. Seven Sisters remains an area of high socio-economic deprivation, with a third of households in the privately rented sector. However, under the Council's proposals for Selective Licensing - Seven Sisters isn't included. Haringey Citizens would like to see more of Seven Sisters included in the Selective Licensing Scheme to ensure some of the most deprived families are included.

Deprivation: a national view

The map shows differences in deprivation in this area based on national comparisons, using national quintiles (fifths) of the Index of Multiple Deprivation 2015 (IMD 2015), shown by lower super output areas. The darkest coloured areas are some of the most deprived neighbourhoods in England.

This chart shows the percentage of the population who live in areas at each level of deprivation.

Image 1- Deprivation in Haringey. This shows that the majority of the electoral wards in east Haringey house some of the most deprived people in the country.

Potential solutions - Overview of licensing schemes

In England there are three different types of Licensing. Two types concern only Houses of Multiple Occupancy (HMO). A HMO is a property which contains common amenities (normally bathrooms, kitchens, stairwells) and are occupied by 3 or more non-related people/ families.

- Mandatory Licensing - This is obligatory licensing of Houses of Multiple Occupation (HMO) which meet the criteria that they have three or more floors and house five or more unrelated families/individuals.
- Additional Licensing - This form of licensing contains provisions to apply licences to HMOs that do not comply with the Mandatory Licensing criteria. This is in place in a lot of London boroughs as seen in image 4.

Newham, the trail blazer for property licensing

In 2013, Newham became the first London Borough to implement a borough wide selective landlord licensing scheme for non-HMO properties, in addition to the mandatory HMO licensing scheme and additional HMO licensing. Newham initially charged £500 for selective licences, renewable after 5 years and offered discounts for early applications and for multiple properties. Newham licensed 24,400 landlords in the first 3 years of selective licensing roll out. During this period they collected £500,000 in rent repayment orders and managed to reclaim £1.3million in evaded council tax. By the end of 2016 they had issued 38,941 licences in all the schemes (London Property Licensing, no date). Their self-financing scheme is worth £12million over 5 years. Crucially, income from the scheme has gone into paying more officers to tackle housing issues (Quinn, no date).

It was found that licence-less landlords were 4 times more likely to have poor property standards than those with the licence. Full information about terms and conditions of individual licences can be viewed in the appendix 3, it states provisions accounting for repairs, antisocial behaviour and overcrowding. Information on individual licences issued to can be accessed on a database on Newham councils' website ensuring tenant and councils know where to contact landlords. Since the implementation of the scheme in Newham there has been a reduction in ASB and wastes in gardens and 81% of residents agree that it has been beneficial in improving conditions (Newham Council, 2015). Newham have just been granted an extension to their licencing scheme ensuring it will be enforced until 2023, licence prices have increased to £800 (London Property Licensing, 2017).

When comparing action taken in Newham to that of Haringey in the last 2 years (illustrated in image 3), Newham have made 1,914 more HHSRS inspections and actioned 600 more prosecutions. The estimated percentage of the 33,500 PRS households in Haringey that have been inspected in the last two years is just 2%. Haringey have also decreased the number of houses being inspected by 63% from 2015/16 to 2016/17. These statistics highlight what licensing can do; increasing the number of inspections allows property improvements to be made, and lead to prosecution of the most serious cases.

The Benefits of Licensing

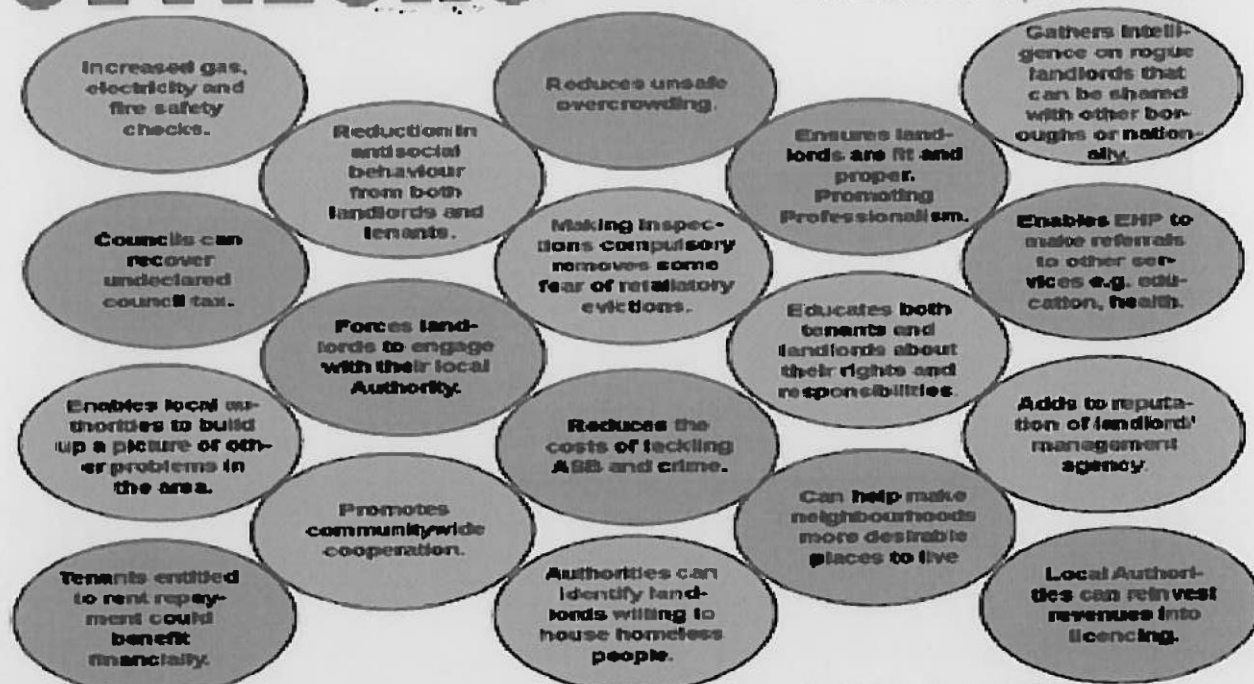

Image 4. Benefits of licencing schemes. Adapted from (Murphy & Mitchell, 2006).

Supporting proactive enforcement

Selective licencing is an important tool to support better enforcement and oversight of the private rented sector, but in order for it to be most effective, local authorities need an enforcement strategy to sit alongside it, and need to show political will to genuinely change conditions in the sector.

Since April 2017, environmental health teams have been able to issue civil penalties for certain housing offences, including poor conditions, in the private rented sector. These powers may often be more suitable than taking court action, because they avoid costly and lengthy legal processes, and the local authority is able to retain all of the money from a penalty, effectively incentivising and self-funding enforcement.

The Mayor of London has just launched his rogue landlord checker, an online database that allows tenants to check if their potential landlord has been convicted of a housing offence in the last year. This empowers tenants, providing them with vital information before they enter a tenancy, and also acts as a deterrent to landlords who may otherwise flout the law.

Currently the database only covers some London boroughs - those who have voluntarily signed up to share their data. Haringey is not currently one of those boroughs, but as part of its moves to improve its private rented sector and tackle rogue landlords, should be looking to be involved as soon as possible.

Recommendations from Haringey Citizens

- Introduction of a selective licensing scheme to cover some of the most deprived areas of Haringey.
- Sign up to the Mayor of London's Rogue Landlord and Agent Checker upon its launch.
- Haringey Council should publicly commit to proactively using civil penalty powers, and have this strategy and commitment passed at a meeting of full council.
- Haringey Council should seek to work together with Environmental Health Departments at Universities - such as Middlesex - to identify houses who are breaking licensing laws.
- Using the revenues from landlord prosecutions, Haringey Council should introduce a landline that residents can anonymously use to safely report their landlord.
- Haringey Council to re-examine the consultation to re-consider including parts of Seven Sisters into the Selective Landlord Licensing Scheme.

Summary

The powers to tackle poor housing conditions are available to local authorities but in Haringey they are not maximised. Introducing areas of selective licensing gives opportunity to inspect housing conditions, give relevant advice, enforce changes and prosecute those responsible where necessary and thus long term drive up the standards of the private rented sector in Haringey.

1 Damp and mould growth

Caused by dust mites, mould or fungal growths caused by dampness and/or high humidities. It includes threats to mental health and social wellbeing caused by living with damp, damp staining and/or mould growth.

Most vulnerable:
14 years or less

2 Excess cold

From sub-optimal indoor temperatures.

Most vulnerable:
65 years plus

3 Excess heat

Caused by excessively high indoor air temperature.

Most vulnerable:
65 years plus

4 Asbestos (and MMF)

Caused by exposure to asbestos fibres and manufactured mineral fibres (MMF).

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

5 Biocides

Threats to health from those chemicals used to treat timber and mould growth in dwellings. Insecticides and rodenticides to control pest infestations (e.g. cockroaches or rats and mice), these are not considered for the purposes of the HHSRS.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

6 Carbon monoxide and fuel combustion products

Hazards due to excess levels of carbon monoxide, nitrogen dioxide, sulphur dioxide and smoke in the dwelling's atmosphere.

Most vulnerable:
60, 65 years plus, NO₂, SO₂ and smoke, no specific group

7 Lead

Threats to health from the ingestion of lead.

Most vulnerable:
under 3 years

8 Radiation

This category covers the threats to health from radon gas and its daughters, primarily airborne, but also radon dissolved in water. While rare, leakage from microwave ovens might also be considered. Evidence of health risks from low-level exposure to electro-magnetic fields from phone masts have not, to date, been proven.

Most vulnerable:
all persons aged between 60 and 64 years who have had lifetime exposure to radon

9 Uncombusted fuel gas

The threat of asphyxiation due to fuel gas escaping into the atmosphere within a dwelling.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

10 Volatile organic compounds

VOCs are a diverse group of organic chemicals which includes formaldehyde, that are gaseous at room temperature, and are found in a wide variety of materials in the home.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

11 Crowding and space

Health hazards linked to a lack of living space for sleeping and normal family/household life.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

12 Entry by intruders

Problems keeping a dwelling secure against unauthorised entry and the maintenance of defensible space.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

13 Lighting

Threats to physical and mental health linked to inadequate natural and/or artificial light. It includes the psychological effect associated with the view from the dwelling through glazing.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

14 Noise

Threats to physical and mental health caused by noise exposure inside the dwelling or within its curtilage.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

15 Domestic hygiene, pests and refuse

Health hazards due to poor design, layout and construction to the point where the dwelling cannot be readily kept clean and hygienic; access into, and harborage within, the dwelling for pests; and inadequate and unhygienic provision for storing and disposal of household waste.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

THE EFFECT OF THE DEFECT

Housing Health and Safety Rating System hazards as defined in the 2005
Regulations

16 Food safety

Threats of infection due to inadequate facilities for the storage, preparation and cooking of food.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

17 Personal hygiene, sanitation and drainage

Threats of infection and threats to mental health associated with personal hygiene, including personal washing and clothes washing facilities, sanitation and drainage.

Most vulnerable:
children under 5

18 Water supply

The quality and adequacy of the water supply for drinking and for domestic purposes such as cooking, washing, cleaning and sanitation. Also threats to health from contamination by bacteria, protozoa, parasites, viruses, and chemical pollutants.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

19 Falls associated with baths etc

Falls associated with a bath, shower or similar facility.

Most vulnerable:
60 years plus

20 Falling on level surfaces etc

Falls on any level surface such as floors, yards and paths. It also includes falls associated with trip steps, thresholds, or ramps, where the change in level is less than 500mm.

Most vulnerable:
60 years plus

21 Falling on stairs etc

Falls associated with stairs, steps and ramps where the change in level is greater than 500mm. It includes falls on internal stairs or ramps within the dwelling, external steps or ramps within the curtilage of the dwelling, internal common stairs or ramps within the building, access to the dwelling, and to shared facilities or means of escape in case of fire. It also includes falls over pendant (balustrading).

Most vulnerable:
60 years plus

22 Falling between levels

Falls from one level to another, inside or outside a dwelling, where the difference in levels is more than 500mm. For example, falls out of windows, falls from balconies or landings, falls from accessible roofs, into basement wells, and over garden retaining walls.

Most vulnerable:
under 5 years

23 Electrical hazards

Hazards from electric shock and electricity burns, including from lightning strikes.

Most vulnerable:
under 5 years

24 Fire

Threats from uncontrolled fire and associated smoke. It includes injuries from clothing catching light, which appears to be common when people attempt to put out a fire. It does not include clothing catching alight from a controlled fire by reaching across a gas flame or an open fire used for space heating.

Most vulnerable:
60 years plus

25 Flames, hot surfaces etc

Burns or injuries caused by contact with a hot flame or fire, and contact with hot objects or hot non-water based liquids, and scalds - injuries caused by contact with hot liquids and vapours. It includes burns caused by clothing catching alight from a controlled fire or flame.

Most vulnerable:
under 5 years

26 Collision and entrapment

The category includes risk of physical injury from trapping body parts in architectural features, such as trapping limbs or fingers in doors or windows. Most vulnerable under 5 years. It includes striking (colliding with) objects such as architectural glazing, windows, doors, low ceilings and walls.

Most vulnerable:
10 years over

27 Explosions

Threat from the blast of an explosion, from debris generated by the blast, and from the partial or total collapse of a building as the result of an explosion.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

28 Position and operability of amenities etc

Threats of physical strain associated with functional space and other features at dwellings.

Most vulnerable:
60 years plus

29 Structural collapse and falling elements

The threat of the dwelling collapsing, or of an element or a part of the fabric being displaced or falling because of inadequate fixing or disrepair, or as a result of adverse weather conditions. Structural failure may occur internally or externally.

Most vulnerable:
no specific group

AS damp is so common it is looked at as 'normal' and is blamed mostly on the tenants, the way they cook and don't ventilate, the way they don't open windows, to have a mixture of cold + hot air. Stop passing the blame.

Appendix 7: Neighbouring borough responses to survey (marked up questionnaire)

Private Rented Properties – Licensing consultation

We want your views on our proposal to introduce two new property licensing schemes to improve the local environment and the housing conditions of renters in the private sector.

The survey will take around 5 minutes to complete.

The consultation opens on 11th December 2017 and closes on 5th March 2018. The results and final recommendations will be reported back to Cabinet in June 2018. If you have any queries please email PropertyLicensing@haringey.gov.uk

What is property licensing?

Local Councils can choose to require private landlords or their agents to obtain a licence to rent out their property. A licence usually lasts for five years and landlords have to keep their property safe and well maintained as well as deal with any problems associated with the property such as dumped rubbish, untidy gardens or anti-social behaviour.

There are three types of licensing schemes:

Mandatory Licensing – Since 2004, all councils have had to run a licensing scheme for large houses in multiple occupation (HMOs). Any HMO that has three or more storeys with five or more people living as two or more households and sharing amenities has to be licensed.

Additional Licensing – Councils can introduce Additional Licensing to cover any other type of HMO in their area.

Selective Licensing – this type of scheme covers all other private rented properties.

Further information about the different types of licensing can be found here.

Landlords have to pay a licensing fee for each property they rent out. The licensing fee covers the cost of the scheme and allows the council to employ staff to check the condition of private rented properties in the area and make sure that the correct management arrangements are in place. The fee can also be used to support landlords by offering them advice and guidance.

Haringey already has two licensing schemes – A Mandatory licensing scheme and an Additional licensing scheme in the Tottenham area.

The Council believes that extending their current licensing scheme to cover all HMOs in the borough as well as introducing a Selective Licensing Scheme for all other privately rented properties in smaller areas across the borough will:

- Improve the living arrangements of many private sector tenants by improving the condition of properties.
- Reduce property related crime, anti-social behaviour and rubbish dumping.
- Support good landlords and remove rogue landlords from operating in the borough.
- Improve the image of an area, making it a desirable place to live.

Scheme proposal

Haringey's proposal for introducing Additional and Selective Licensing includes:

• Additional Licensing – a borough wide scheme that will require all HMOs in Haringey to be licensed.

Please click on the link to find further information on the type of HMO included: Type of HMO included within the proposed Additional Licensing Scheme

· Selective Licensing – a scheme that will require all other privately rented properties located in 29 selected areas, to be licensed.

Please click on the link to find further information on the 29 areas: Proposed Selective Licensing Areas

· A set of conditions that all landlords have to follow – the council believes that the conditions will lead to better managed properties, a reduction in anti-social behaviour (specifically untidy front gardens and dumping of rubbish) and an improvement in living conditions for tenants.

Please click on the links below to find further information on the Licensing Conditions.

Additional Licensing Conditions HMOs

Selective Licensing Conditions

· A license fee that all landlords will have to pay – the fee will cover the cost of running the scheme. The council cannot make a profit from the scheme.

Disability

Under the Equality Act 2010, a person is considered to have a disability if she/he has a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on her/his ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. Haringey Council accepts the social model of disability. However, in order to be able to identify and respond to your specific needs, it is important to know what kind of disability you have.

Q36 Do you consider yourself to be a disabled person? (Please tick one box only)

- 0 (0%) Yes
- 10 (100%) No

Q37 [If yes] Is your disability related to any of the following...? (Please tick all that apply)
