

Arboricultural and Allotments Service planted a total of 130 new trees in the West Green and Bruce Grove wards during the 2011/12 planting season. It was a mixture of replacement trees in vacant pit and trees planted in new locations.

There were no real issues, a small number of residents did object to having a tree planted outside their home, but this is normal across the whole borough.

36 of the trees were planted as part of the DIY streets project in the area behind Turnpike Lane Station. See link below
