Parents and promises

Texts on this page from Common Worship are © 2000 The Archbishops' Council of the Church of England

Different people, different promises

There are three different sets of statements in the baptism service -

- ◆ The promises made by parents, godparents and family.
- ◆ The commitment made by the person being baptized. When the person is a child, these promises are made by proxy: parents and godparents speak on the child's behalf. However, they are still understood as the children's promises, for which, as they grow older, they will be responsible.
- ◆ The affirmation of faith which is shared by the person being baptized as well as by the whole church. Again, parents and godparents speak on behalf of a child too young to answer with understanding.

The promises of (god) parents

This first set of promises, which come after opening prayer, at least one reading from the Bible, and a sermon or talk, are the ones which set the scene for the whole baptism service. They contain the basis on which the church baptizes people too young to answer for themselves.

The first question to the church

Faith is the gift of God to his people.

In baptism the Lord is adding to our number those whom he is calling. People of God, will you welcome these children/candidates and uphold them in their new life in Christ?

With the help of God, we will

This reminds us that we are none of us alone in the journey of life, but we are all supported by others in following our choices. The church is that group of people who support one another in following Jesus Christ, and so they are first asked to take up their responsibility for this new member.

CHRISTIANITY KS 3 Unit 13: The Christian journey of life

The questions to parents and godparents

Parents and godparents, the Church receives these children with joy. Today we are trusting God for their growth in faith. Will you pray for them, draw them by your example into the community of faith and walk with them in the way of Christ?

With the help of God, we will.

In baptism these children begin their journey in faith. You speak for them today. Will you care for them, and help them to take their place within the life and worship of Christ's Church?

With the help of God, we will.

Parents and godparents make a commitment to:

- pray for the child;
- by word and example help the child become a worshipping member of the church;
- care for the child and bring them up to be a responsible adult Christian;
- be a companion on life's journey, trying to both to shape their own character and the child's, so that it is like Christ's.

Unit 13 Session 2

Prayer over the Water

The ministers and candidates gather at the baptismal font. A canticle, psalm, hymn or litany may be used.

The president stands before the water of baptism and says (optional seasonal and responsive forms are provided)

All Praise God who made heaven and earth, who keeps his promise for ever.

Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
All It is right to give thanks and praise.

We thank you, almighty God, for the gift of water to sustain, refresh and cleanse all life.

Over water the Holy Spirit moved in the beginning of creation.
Through water you led the children of Israel from slavery in Egypt to freedom in the Promised Land.
In water your Son Jesus received the baptism of John and was anointed by the Holy Spirit as the Messiah, the Christ, to lead us from the death of sin to newness of life.

We thank you, Father, for the water of baptism.
In it we are buried with Christ in his death.
By it we share in his resurrection.

CHRISTIANITY KS 3 Unit 13: The Christian journey of life

Through it we are reborn by the Holy Spirit.
Therefore, in joyful obedience to your Son, we baptize into his fellowship those who come to him in faith.

Now sanctify this water that, by the power of your Holy Spirit, they may be cleansed from sin and born again.
Renewed in your image, may they walk by the light of faith and continue for ever in the risen life of Jesus Christ our Lord; to whom with you and the Holy Spirit be all honour and glory, now and for ever.

All

Amen.

Unit 13 Session 3

Confirmation in the Roman Catholic Church (from Roman Catholic information sheet)

In the Roman Catholic Church confirmation is celebrated at different ages according to the rules of the local bishop (generally between 10 and 14 years old), but adults who are baptised are always confirmed immediately afterwards. Whereas baptism enters you into the community, without your consent in the case of a child, confirmation is an affirmation that you want to remain in it. It is an adult commitment which reaffirms your baptismal promises. A traditional way of speaking is that it makes you a soldier of Christ. This means that you are committed to working and fighting for your faith. Every confirmed Catholic (and Christian) is a missionary entrusted with the task of spreading their faith. We say that they must give Christian witness. Witness is a term used by Christians to mean a public declaration of their faith. This can be by word or example. For instance, a Christian who demonstrates against a bad law gives Christian witness.

The Ceremony of Confirmation

1. It takes place during mass.
2. The celebrant is usually a bishop, but may be a priest who has received special permission.
3. Each candidate has a sponsor who affirms that they are willing to be confirmed.
4. Each candidate renews the promises of their baptism
5. The celebrant lays hands on the candidates, while praying that the Holy Spirit be brought down upon them. He does this by stretching his hands over them - he does not actually touch them at this point.
6. The candidates approach the celebrant one at a time. The sponsor's right hand is placed on the candidate's shoulder.
7. The candidate has chosen a saint's name which the sponsor gives to the celebrant.
8. The celebrant anoints the candidate with chrism, a sign of strength, and says, "(Confirmation name) be sealed with the gift of the Holy Spirit." The candidate replies "Amen"
9. The mass continues with the presentation of gifts.

CHRISTIANITY KS 3

Unit 13: The Christian journey of life

Chrism

Chrism is an important symbol. It is a sign of strength. The Christian is being given the strength of Christ to fight for good. From ancient times people were marked out for a special task by being anointed. They were identified as servants of a particular Lord by having that Lord's sign written or marked on them in some way. In confirmation Christians are being marked out as Christ's people, members of the People of God. They are commissioned to a special task, spreading the gospel and fighting against evil. Confirmation is a sign that they are ready to take up their Christian vocation.

Christians believe that they receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is the power of God, the Third Person of the Trinity, who makes Christians holy and gives them the strength and the love of God in their lives. They believe that the Holy Spirit's presence in their lives will produce certain benefits. These they call the gifts and fruits of the Holy Spirit. The presence of the Holy Spirit is intended to bring people closer to God, enable them to love God more and to be stronger in the practice of the Christian life.

Unit 13 Session 6

Christian Death Rites – the Roman Catholic Church

Sometimes, when a person is dying, a priest or minister will come to their bedside to pray with them and to try to help them prepare for death. In the Roman Catholic Church, the priest will put holy oil on a person's head; this is the sacrament of the sick.

When a person dies their body is placed in a coffin. Sometimes this coffin is left open so that relatives can say a final goodbye to the person. The coffin is then usually taken to a church, where a priest will read from the Bible. The priest will also say a few words about the person which are designed to comfort the mourners and then say prayers, hoping that the person will now be in heaven.

In a Roman Catholic Church, prayers are said for the dead person's soul.

Next the coffin is taken from the church, either for burial or cremation.

At a crematorium, more prayers are said and the coffin is then taken away to be cremated. Later the ashes are returned to relatives to be buried or scattered.

At a funeral the coffin is lowered into the ground and then covered with earth. Later a gravestone may be placed there giving some details of the person's life.

At both services the priest or minister will probably say,

'We commit this body to the ground, earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust.'

This reminds people that we are all human and made by God and also recalls that God made the world at creation.

Candles are sometimes lit to remind people that Jesus was the Light of the World and that because of Jesus Christians can be saved from their sins and go to heaven.

Unit 13 Session 6

Christian Death Rites 2 – the Church of England

A funeral marks the close of a human life on earth. It is the opportunity for friends and family to express their grief, to give thanks for the life which has now completed its journey in this world and to commend the person into God's keeping.

The Church of England funeral service can be very short and quiet with only a few members of the family present or an occasion of great solemnity with music, hymns and a packed church. Whether in a parish church or a crematorium chapel, it can be the plain funeral service from Common Worship or with the addition of hymns, favourite prayers and readings, an address. It can also sometimes be set into the context of a Communion Service.

Questions of life and death

The funeral service will reflect the personality of the one who has died and the circumstances of their death. Feelings of grief, gratitude, joy and sadness often intermingle.

Funeral services always raise profound questions about the meaning of life and death. Jesus believed in a life-giving God: 'the God of the living, not of the dead.' Christians believe that Christ's resurrection is the triumph of good over evil and of life over death and has made eternal life available to humans.

What happens after death is a mystery but Christians believe that everybody will be judged by God. What heaven is like, the Bible and the church do not say too precisely but Christians believe that they will enjoy the presence and love of God and of the whole company of heaven. They believe that whatever is wonderful about life here on earth is only a glimpse of the glory of the life that is to come.

CHRISTIANITY KS 3 Unit 13: The Christian journey of life

The funeral service

The service begins with the priest or other minister reading aloud such reassuring sentences from the scriptures as:

'I am the resurrection and the life,' saith the Lord; 'he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die,' and: 'I know that my Redeemer liveth ...'

A psalm - often The Lord is my Shepherd - follows and passages from the Bible are read telling of God's care and of the hope of eternal life after death. There may be a sermon remembering the life and work of the dead person and the great Christian beliefs about life beyond death. This can comfort the mourners but sometimes it is felt that the service and the readings from the Bible convey all that needs to be said.

If the family wishes it, a Communion service follows. The prayers recall the promise of the resurrection, entrust the dead person to the love and mercy of God and ask for comfort and strength for those who mourn.

The committal

The committal is a particularly solemn moment of the funeral service. It takes place either at the graveside or, in the case of a cremation, in the crematorium chapel or in church before the hearse leaves for the crematorium.

In the cemetery or churchyard, the family will gather round the open grave into which the coffin is lowered and they will hear the words:

'We therefore commit his (or her) body to the ground; earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust; in the sure and certain hope of the Resurrection to eternal life.'

Handfuls of earth are then scattered on the coffin.

In a crematorium, the words of committal may be accompanied by the closing of a curtain to hide the coffin from view or the coffin is moved slowly out of sight. The committal can be a very emotional moment. Many who are suffering grief find that, even in their sadness, the words of prayer can lift them towards the experience of Christian rejoicing in the knowledge of life beyond death.

Prayers of entrusting and commending from Common Worship

Lord Jesus, our redeemer, you willingly gave yourself up to death, so that all might be saved and pass from death to life.

By dying you unlocked the gates of life for all those who believe in you.

So we commend N into your arms of mercy, believing that, with sins forgiven, he/she will share a place of happiness, light and peace
in the kingdom of your glory for ever. Amen.

N has fallen asleep in the peace of Christ.
We entrust him/her, with faith and hope in everlasting life, to the love and mercy of our Father and surround him/her with our love and prayer.
In baptism, he/she was made by adoption a child of God.
At the Eucharist he/she was sustained and fed.
God now welcomes him/her to his table in heaven to share in eternal life with all the saints. Amen

Heavenly Father,
your Son Jesus Christ is the firstborn from the dead.
We believe that he will raise up the bodies of his faithful people to be like his in glory.
We commend N to your mercy and pray that as you gather him/her to yourself, you will give to us your blessing of peace;
through Jesus Christ our Lord, who died and rose again to save us, and is now alive and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit in glory for ever. Amen.

Unit 13 Session 6

Prayers of entrusting and commending from Common Worship

God our creator and redeemer, by your power Christ conquered death and returned to you in glory, bearing in his body the marks of his passion.
Confident of your victory and claiming his promises, we entrust N into your keeping in the name of Jesus our Lord, who, though he died, is now alive and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

Almighty God, as you bring us face to face with our mortality, we thank you for making each one of us in your own image and giving us gifts in body, mind and spirit.
We thank you now as we honour the memory of N , whom you gave to us and have taken away.
We entrust him/her to your mercy, and pray that you will show us the path of life, and the fullness of joy in your presence through all eternity. Amen.

Almighty God, in your great love you crafted us by your hand and breathed life into us by your Spirit.
Although we became a rebellious people, you did not abandon us to our sin.
In your tender mercy you sent your Son to restore in us your image.
In obedience to your will he gave up his life for us, bearing in his body our sins on the cross.
By your mighty power you raised him from the grave and exalted him to the throne of glory.
Rejoicing in his victory and trusting in your promise to make alive all who turn to Christ, we commend N to your mercy and we join with all your faithful people and the whole company of heaven in the one unending song of praise: glory and wisdom and honour be to our God for ever and ever. Amen

Prayers of entrusting and commending from Common Worship

At the time of death

Into your hands, Lord,
our faithful creator and most loving redeemer,
we commend your child N ,
for he/she is yours in death as in life.
In your great mercy fulfil in him/her the purpose of your love;
gather him/her to yourself in gentleness and peace,
that, rejoicing in the light and refreshment of your presence, he/she may enjoy that rest which you have prepared for your faithful servants;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Into your hands, O merciful Saviour, we commend your servant N .
Acknowledge, we pray, a sheep of your own fold,
a lamb of your own flock,
a sinner of your own redeeming.
Enfold him/her in the arms of your mercy,

Birth is a beginning and death a destination
And life is a journey:
From childhood to maturity
and youth to age;

From innocence to awareness and ignorance to knowing;
From weakness to strength or from strength to weakness and often back again;

From health to sickness and we pray to health again.
From offense to forgiveness from loneliness to love from joy to gratitude from pain to compassion from grief to understanding, from fear to faith.

From defeat to defeat to defeat until looking backwards or ahead
We see that victory lies not at some high point along the way but in having made the journey step by step, a sacred pilgrimage.

Birth is a beginning and death a destination
And life is a journey;
A sacred journey to life everlasting
